Only companies with the highest standards of customer service and consumer safety are awarded the Seal of Security and Confidence.

Roof Solutions +, LLC has been awarded TheSeal.com Seal of Security and Confidence, a prestigious designation only awarded to top companies who meet the consumer advocate's stringent guidelines concerning quality, customer service and consumer safety.

"We believe our customers and employees needs come first. Our goal is to exceed expectations in service and best management practices while on the job and after the job," said Paul Findeisen.

"Very few companies meet all of our quality benchmarks concerning the company and personnel," said TheSeal.com founder Edward Marchiselli. "The fact that Roof Solutions +, LLC went through the process and has been awarded the Seal of Security and Confidence is a testament to its commitment to customer satisfaction and safety."

Companies with TheSeal.com Seal of Security and Confidence have met stringent requirements including verification of license, insurance and customer service record. They have committed to allow AsktheSeal.com to perform annual criminal background checks on all employees who interact with the public or their personal information.

Companies with the Seal of Security and Confidence can initiate an email from TheSeal.com with an employee's photo and verification of criminal background check so their customer knows who they are opening the door for. The employees also wear photo IDs further verifying their annual background checks.
